Date: 23rd February, 2017

Bus services for the participants from Rashbihari crossing at 8:15am

Registration to start from 10 am

Treasure Hunt Competition

Time: starts from 10.30 am

It will be a team event. Each team should consist of maximum 3 participants.

The team name, name of the participants and contact details (email, phone no., Whatsapp no.) must be sent to www.globsyn.edu.in/serendipity2017 by 21st February, 2017

Use of mobile phone is strictly prohibited.

The entire team must stay together or the team can split up to find different clues to help them on the treasure hunt. The team members should remain throughout the game in GBS Campus.

Teams have to keep the clues with them until the game finishes.

The team has to complete various rounds of the treasure hunt in the allotted time. Points will be deducted for coming late in finishing a certain task.

After collecting the parts as per clues, the event coordinators will assess it instantly and give it back to the respective team.

Teams may pick up only one copy of the clue at each location. The team cannot hide or touch any of the copies intended for teams that arrive after they pick their own clue up. Doing this is cheating and results in disqualification.

Any damage done by participant to college property will result into instant disqualification from the event and a penalty may be levied too, i.e. participants will have to pay for the damage they incur.

Any internal conflicts between teams will result into instant dismissal of those teams.

Final decision will be given by the judges only; no team or participant has the right to argue with judges or coordinators.

According to increase in levels/rounds, the game area will be increased.

Mock Parliament

Event will start from 10.30 am

It will be a team event.

Each team should consist of 2 participants.

The topic of discussion will be: What should be the sustainable economic development model for India?

The competition will be of two rounds.

First round will be an elimination round, where the participants will represent a fictitious party name with the electoral identity (election symbol and color combination) and speak about their agenda and policy regarding the greater political scenario and the given topic for maximum 5 minutes.

Evaluation will be based on the creativity and oratory skill.

No interjection or rebuttal by other teams is allowed in this round.

Qualified teams will be selected based on the performance in the elimination round.

There will be a 'Zero Hour' where the rules will be framed by the speaker of the mock parliament, which will be followed by the debate on the given topic.

The debate will have two phases.

The first phase would involve individual performances from all the competing houses. One member of the team with highest point in the qualifying round would start the debate followed by one member of the other teams. This process would continue till the last speaker. This process will continue for 2 rounds. No interruption or support during speech is allowed in this phase. In the 1st round, the emphasis must be more on deliberation of one's views and in the 2nd round, the focus must be more on rebuttal of other's views by own views and arguments.

Time allotted per speaker will be of 2 minutes for the 1st round and 3 minutes for the 2nd round.

The second phase will be an open house session for 10 minutes, where the participants would engage in debating on the topic as per the parliamentary discussion format.

Evaluation would be based on individual performance of each speaker on multiple parameters, such as Content, Verbal Communication Skills and Clarity of Thoughts and also group performance during open sessions.

The team name, name of the participants, contact details (email, phone no., Whatsapp no.) and the electoral identity (election symbol and color combination) in JPEG image must be sent to www.globsyn.edu.in/serendipity2017 by 21st February, 2017
